An Act for the better preserving the Navigation of the Rivers Avon and Froome and for cleansing paving and inlightning the Streets of the City of Bristoll.

Rot. Parl. 11 Gul. III. p. 4. n. 2.

Whereas the City of Bristoll is a Place of great Trade and Commerce depending chiefely on the Navigation of the Rivers Avon and Severne for the Importation of Corne and all sorts of Provisions for the Citizens and Inhabitants there and from whence by Water many Counties of England and Wales are supplyed with Goods and Merchandizes and great Quantities of the Product and Manufactures of this Kingdome are exported into Forreigne Parts and Forreigne Goods and Merchandizes are there imported to the great Advantage of the Trade of this Kingdome and the Advancement of Navigation and the Kings Revenue which Navigation cannot be carried on unlesse the Rivers Avon and Froome running through the said City into the River Severne and the Harbours and Creeks thereof and alsoe the Port of King-Road or Avon-Road into which the said Rivers empt themselves be kept free and cleare from all Obstructions and Impediments And whereas the Statute made in the Thirty fourth and Thirty fifth Yeares of the Reigne of King Henry the Eighth intituled An Act for the better Preservation of the Reasons for passing this Act, arising from the Trade of Bristol, &c.

Recital of Stat. 34 & 35 Hen. VIII. c. 9.

[1] Gerall O.

River Severne (which by the Purport thereof was designed to preserve the Navigation to and from the said City) is insufficient to answer the good Ends therein proposed and designed particularly because it has not provided against severall Nusances and Obstructions daily committed by digging of Stones and makeing of Quarries in divers Rocks hanging over and adjoyning to the said River Avon aswell above the said City as below the same from whence great Quantities of Stones and Rubbish doe arise and wilfully or negligently are throwne or permitted and suffered to fall into the said River Avon and being carried downe by Tides and Freshes make Shelves and Hills under Water in the Bottom and on the Sides or Banks of the said River to the Hazard Hindrance and Obstruction of the Navigation of Shipps and Vessells trading to the said City And whereas severall Glasse-houses Smelting-places for Lead and Copper and other Houses Edifices and Buildings have been lately erected and built upon the Banks of or very neare the said River Avon aswell within the Liberties of the said City as in the Counties of Gloucester and Somersett below the said City towards the Sea and alsoe above the said City to a certaine Place called Hannams-Mills which Glasse-houses Smelting-places for Lead and Copper and other Houses Edifices and Buildings doe from their Fuell Materialls and otherwise produce great Quantities of Ashes Cinders and other Filth and Rubbish which for the Ease and saveing of Expence to the Occupiers of those Houses and Places are very often throwne into the River or soe carelessly or negligently laid and placed on the Banks thereof that Rains Floods and Spring-Tides wash it into the said River to the great Prejudice and Annoyance thereof and the said River Avon being the Bounds and Division of the Counties of Somersett and Gloucester and often shifting and changing its Channell from one Side to the other soe that it cannot well be proved in which of the said Counties such Annoyances and Obstructions in the said River are made or done by reason whereof the said Annoyances and Obstructions are continued and the Offenders escape unpunished And whereas alsoe the Scituation of the said City of Bristoll it selfe being for the most Part upon Eminencies and small Hills which have a Declivity and Fall to the said River Avon and the River Froome running by the Key through great part of the said City great Quantities of Ashes Dirt Filth and other Rubbish (occasioned and made by the great number of Citizens and Inhabitants within the said City) being for the most part throwne into the Streets and Lanes of the said City are thence washed into the said Rivers which cannot be prevented for want of sufficient Powers and Authority to hinder or prevent the throwing of such Ashes and Filth into the said Streets and Lanes and to appoint Scavengers and other necessary Officers for the cleansing of them and proper Places to receive such Ashes Dirt Filth and Rubbish and for raiseing and levying of Money to defray the necessary Charges and Expences thereof by reason whereof the said Rivers are greatly obstructed and if not prevented may in time be choaked up and the Navigation thereof will be absolutely destroyed And whereas alsoe severall great Losses have been lately sustained and much Damage done and suffered by the Obstinacy Wilfulnesse and Carelessnesse of Pilotts and Masters of Shipps Barkes and other Vessells passing up and downe the said Rivers by their comeing to Anchor at inconvenient Places and undue times of Tide and other Irregularities to the Hazard often of Sinking not only their owne Shipps and Vessells but likewise the Shipps and Vessells that are lying and abiding in the said Rivers Creeks and Havens to the great Losse and Prejudice of divers Merchants and Traders and thereby hazarding a Stoppage of the said Rivers To the Intent therefore that such Nusances Obstructions Impediments and Inconveniencies which at this time are in any Part or Place within the said River Avon from Hannams-Mills to the Port of King-Road or Avon-Road where the said River empts it selfe into the Severne or in any Part or Place of the said River Froome within the Jurisdiction of the said City may be removed abated and remedied And that the same Rivers within the said Boundaries and Limitts aforesaid may for ever hereafter be kept and maintained free from any Nusances Obstructions and Impediments of any sort or kind whatsoever and may be made and preserved easie and safe for Navigation And to the end that all Mischeifes Damages and Inconveniencies by the Wilfulnesse Obstinacy Ignorance or Irregularity of Pilotts Masters of Shipps Barkes and other Vessells may be prevented And that the Ashes Dirt Rubbish and Filth of the said City may be soe disposed of for the future that no Annoyance may come to the said Rivers thereby Be it enacted and it is hereby enacted by the Kings most Excellent Majesty by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spirituall and Temporall and Commons in this present Parliament assembled and by the Authority of the same That the throwing of any Ballast Cinders Ashes Dust Dirt Stones Rubbish or any other Filth into any Part of the said River Avon from Hannams-Mills aforesaid downwards to the River Severne or the said Rivers Froome and Severne within the Road or Harbour of King-Road or Avon-Road or into any of the Creeks or Havens of the said Rivers Avon or Froome within the Boundaries and Limitts before mentioned or the placeing or putting of any Ballast Cinders Ashes Dust Dirt Rubbish or any other Filth in or upon any of the Wharffes Backs or Keyes within the said City or Suburbs thereof or in or upon any of the Banks of the said Rivers within the Limitts aforesaid which may be washed into the said Rivers except for the Maintenance of such publick and lawfull Shipps as are now in being or the said River or hereafter shall be made or continued by the Allowance and Consent of the Mayor and the Common Councill of the said City for the time being shall be deemed and adjudged and is hereby declared to be a common Nusance and that the same is insufficient. Further Reasons for passing this Act, arising from Obstructions by Glasshouses, &c.

and from the Situation of Bristol, and the Obstructions arising in consequence thereof, from throwing Ballast, Ashes, &c. into the Rivers;

and from the Losses sustained by the Obstinacy and Carelessness of Pilots and others.
